Carrier Reunites with Habitat for Humanity Japan in Outdoor Facility Enhancement for Children's Home

TOKYO, Dec. 18, 2025 – Volunteers from Carrier once again joined forces with Habitat for Humanity Japan (HFHJ), to support an outdoor facility enhancement initiative at Kodomo no Sono, a children's home situated in Chigasaki City, Kanagawa Prefecture. Carrier is a part of Carrier Global Corporation (NYSE: CARR), global leader in intelligent climate and energy solutions.

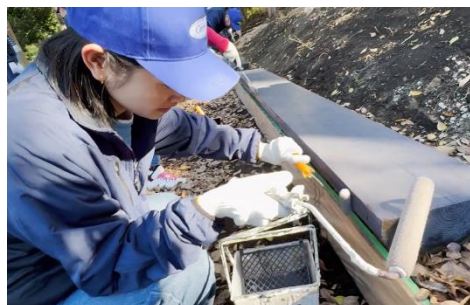

The event marked Carrier's fourth volunteer initiative at Kodomo no Sono, with 28 volunteers contributing to meaningful improvements to foster communication and interaction outdoors among the community. Their efforts included applying finishing tiles to the outdoor stage in the forest, coating wood benches with preservative stain to enhance durability and creating terraces on the slopes, followed by sowing seeds to promote future greenery.

This initiative is part of a multi-year project launched by HFHJ to enhance outdoor facilities where children from the facility and the surrounding community can play, connect and grow together. The outdoor space will serve as a welcoming environment to foster interaction among young people and provide for those invited from the surrounding community. Inspired with the initiative, Carrier has pledged its continued support, and their volunteers have participated in several rounds of activities, including clearing the land and preparing it for development, building a brick oven and a space for camping activities, and planting 24 trees around the facility to create a greener, healthier and more vibrant space and preserve biodiversity of the community.

"While many of the tasks may seem modest, seeing the playground evolve with each visit brings us immense joy and a sense of connection. Contributing to building an environment that supports children's growth is truly rewarding and resonates with Carrier's purpose—Enhancing the Lives We Live and the World We Share," said Toru Kubo, President of Carrier Japan, who has participated in all four initiatives at the children's home. "These activities also give our volunteers the chance to collaborate across departments, strengthening ties across the organization. We are deeply grateful for the opportunity to contribute to such a meaningful cause."
